Sheriff Davidson was greatly disturbed yesterday over the statement that the members of the Assembly Investigating Committee would unite in asking the Governor to remove him. Charles P. Miller and Wheeler H. Peckham, the counsel for the committee, went to Albany last night, and it is expected that the committee will direct them as soon as possible to lay the evidence in regard to the Sheriff before the Governor. The Sheriff's alarm is so great that he has employed two of the ablest lawyers in that he has employed two of the ablest lawyers in the city, Joseph H. Choate and Aaron J. Vanderpeel, to defend him.

Assembly man Roosevelt, chairman of the committee, will himself ask for the removal of the Sheriff in case the other members of the committee do not join in the movement. But the evidence of the Sheriff's misconduct is so strong and incontrovertible, resting in great part on the official records, that it was thought that there would be united action on the part of the committee in calling the Governor's attention to the subject.

Mr. Peckham, referring to the matter yesterday, said: TEE SAY-THE OTHER SIDE.

said:

The presentment will be made to the Governor some time this week. I told Mr. Rooseveit that I would appear before the Governor and present the charges. There is no doubt whatever in my mind that the charges can be sustained, and that the sheriff should be removed. There is indisputable evidence showing the inlegality of his acts.

Charles P. Miller, of the committee's counsel, Charles P. Miller, of the committees counsel, said:

The case against the Sheriff is so conclusive that I can hardly see how the Governor can escape removing him. The Sheriff charged for prisoners as removed on Sundays and days when the courts were not in session, when in fact he transported no prisoners whatever on those days. He regularly charged for prisoners transported at the expense of the city by the Commissioners of Charliles and correction. He clarged for the board of prisoners when they were not in his custody, and charged the county when the prisoners were paying him exterionate rates for board. If such facts as these do not warrant removal, then an official would be seen in almost any abune, provided that he could plead that his subordinates were to blame. But the Sheriff retains all those subordinates. He even has employed a clerk who was discharged for irregularities in another department. The talk about persecution is redenlous. Bad as are the talk about persecution is redenlous. Bad as are the abuses found to exist in the city government, whenever any person shows any activity in exposing them the talk of persecution or self-interest is raised. Such talk is puterile.

Said one of the Sheriff's confidential friends:

Said one of the Sheriit's collidential friends:
Oh, we are not afraid over here. Governor Cleveland is not going to remove any Democratic official just now.
He don't want to dig his political grave as Lucius Robinson did. Besdies, I can tell you that "Aleck" Davidson has too much influence with Cleveland to fear removal.
There are reasons which Leculd give, were I permitted, that would convince you that Governor Cleveland will not remove "Aleck" Davidson.

Other Democratic horses, thought aliferance.

that would convince you that Governor Cleveland will not remove "Aleck "Davidson.

Other Democrats, however, thought differently from the Sheriff's confidential friend. They said that the Republicans were making so much out of the misdeeds of the city government that it would be a good stroke for the Governor to take some effective steps to correct the abuses. It was stated that he did not hesitate to remove the District-Attorney of Queens County, even when he knew it would lose his party a State Senator, and that if he thought the shariff ought to be removed he would not on that conviction.

Mr. Davidson said that by advice of counsel he had concluded to say nothing more about the matter. When the proper time came he would be ready with his defence. He added that several of the prisoners had united in a card declaring that the feed furnished at the jail was good, that clean bedding was furnished every week, and that the keepers did not ill-treat them.

Mr. Roosevelt, before starting for Albany yesterday, said that the charges against the Sheriff would

Mr. Roosevelt, before starting for Albany yesterday, said that the charges against the Sherifi would at once be presented to the Governor. He added that all sorts or influence had been brought to bear on his committee to prevent the exposure of abuses; out every member was determined to do his duty. The committee will proceed with its work of investigation, although he was almost worn-out with the extra work. He said that he would press his measures for the relief of the city government in every legitimate way, and if they are defeated the people will have the satisfaction of knowing who is responsible. The Civil Service bill to-morrow will show who are disposed to defeat legislation to relieve New-York.

The Special Grand Jury of the Court of Oyer and Terminer vesterday continued its investigation of the Sheriff's office. It has had for several weeks experts engaged in examining the Sheriff's books and papers. Several of the attaches of the jail and some of the prisoners were examined vesterday relative to the food furnished to the prisoners, the rules and regulations of the prison, and the treatment of the immates.

Albany.—Mr. Roosevelt appeared before Governor Cleveland to-night in company with Charles P. Miller, counsel of the Committee of the Assembly that has been investigating the New-York departments. Mr. Miller and Mr. Roosevelt stated that they desired to appear before him at once, and present charges against Sheriff Davidson, of New-York, and ask for his removal. Michael Donohue, age twenty, of No. 63 Clintonst., Hoboken, was taken to the police station yesterday by Councilman Crane and several citizens. He was bleeding profusely from several ugly gashes in the head, and was so weak from loss of blood that he fainted. City Physician Heifer stopped the blood and restored the man to consciousness. Donohue stated that while he was walking through the lower part of the Fourth Ward he was assaulted by four men, who, he believes, intended to rob him. They field on the arrival of some of his friends, who took him to Pope's drug store, No. 147 First-st. Pope bandaged the wounds and demanded, as Donohue alleges, $2 for his services. Donohue said that he had no money then, but he promised to pay the druggist assoon as he got some. Pope, he stated, then became indignant and tore the bandages from Donohue's head, causing the wounds to bleed afresh. Donohue's friends took him to the police station. Pope was questioned about the matter and said: "I demanded only 50 cents and not $2, and I took only one bandage off the man's bead; but if I had taken them all off what of it it." Dr. Helfers considers Donohue's condition critical. TEARING THE BANDAGE FROM A WOUND.

BAPTIST PASTORS LEAVING BROOKLYN. BAPTIST PASTORS LEAVING BROOKLYN.

The Rev. David C. Hughes has tendered his resignation as pastor of the Union Avenue Baptist Church in Brooklyn, a position which he has held fince 1874. He has accepted a call to the Sumint Avenue Baptist Church in Jersey City. Under Mr. Hughes's pastorate his church has been higly prosperous, and a fine new edifice was completed two years ago at a cost of $40,000. He desires to have his resignation go into effect on April 27. A church meeting will be held on March 24 to act upon it.

This resignation will leave four Baptist churches in Brooklyn without pastors, the Marcy Avenue and the Hansom Place churches having lost their pastors last year and successors not having yet been found, and the Rev. Mr. Haynes being about to leave the Washington Avenue Church.

SUICIDE BECAUSE OF DYSPEPSIA.

Hiram M. Richmond, a young lawyer of Meadville, Penn., committed suicide at the Metropolitan Hotel yesterday. He was a sufferer from hypochondria. His uncle, James L. Morris, accompanied him to this city, arriving at 7 a.m. yesterday. At breakfast, after they had engaged a room at the Metropolitan Hotel, the young man complained of a severe pain in his stomach, and said that he would wait for Mr. Morris in the hotel office. He left the table and walked directly out of the hotel. After mishing his breakfast and smoking a cigar in the office, the uncle went out in Broadway to search for him. Richmond returned to the hotel with a revolver, which he had purchased in the Bowery, and went to his room while Mr. Morris was still absent. When Mr. Morris returned he learned that his nephew was in the room. He found the door locked, and procured a chair and looked through the transom. Richmond's dead body lay on the floor. He had shot himself in the left breast and in the right temple, the second shot having caused his death. On the table lay the following note:

My Dear, Darliss Little Wife And Bany: Ere this will have reached you, doubtless, you will have heard of my said ending. My dear wife, pray for me, and my dear mother and father also. May God forgive me and may we meet in that world that knows no sorrow. Good-by. God bless you, God bless you!

Mr. Morris said that "Hile" was a nickname by which the young man was known among his most intimate friends. Richmond was twenty six years old. He had been married about four years, and had a daughter two years old. His family relations were happy, and his business was prosperons. The young man was in partnership with his father. A. B. Richmond, a prominent lawyer in Meadville. Shortly before his marriage Hiram had a severe attack of dyspepsia, and his father sent him to Florida for his health. FUNERAL OF MISS WEATHERS DY.

The Church of the Transfiguration in East Twenty-inith-st, well known as "The "attle Church around the Corner," was crowded vesterday afternoon with the friends of Miss Eme Church around the Corner," was crowded yesterday afternoon with the friends of Miss Emis Weathersby. Every seat was filled and even the aisles and porches were packed with people who were obliged to stand through the funeral service. At the foot of the altar steps stood the black-covered and silver-mounted casket in which the dead girl lay. It was almost covered with a mass of white flowers. In the front pews were the pall-hearers and principal mourners. Among the latter were N. C. Goodwin and his wife, formerly Miss Eliza Weathersby; Miss Jenne Weathersby, M. C. Goodwin, st., and E. Goodwin. The pall-bearers were John E. Warner, George Floyd, Charles Schroeder, John W. Wilson, and Edward Hawurth. The Rev. Dr. George H. Houghton read the funeral service of the Protestant Episcopal Church; the congregation joined in singing the hymns "Jesus, Lover of Iny Soul," and "Oh. Paradise," and Miss Thompson sang the anthem "I Heard a Voice" with much feeling. When the last words were said the coffin was borne through the churchyard to the hearse, followed by the mourners. The face of the dead girl seemed worn and aged by her last filmess. The body was taken to a receiving vault, where it will remain for a few weeks until her family take it with them to England for interment.

Among the many theatrical people present at the funeral were Mrs. Eldridge, Mr. and Mrs. John Howson, Mrs. Mann, Miss Rose Wilson, Miss Eloise Willis, Miss Minnie Conway, Miss Latzie Webster, Mrs. Scanlou, Miss Lillie Post, Harry Edwards, Samuel Colville, R. UNION SERVICES IN BROOKLYN.

ONE HUNDRED AND TWO YEAR SOLD.

One hundred and two years ago yesterday, Mrs. Saran Wikes Banta, of No. 1,003 Green-ave.. Brooklyn, was born in this city. She is one of a family of long-lived brothers and esters, as out of the six children four lived to be over ninety. She has been a widow for sixty years. She was the mother of nine children, six of whom she has survived. Two weeks ago a daughter, age sixty-seven, was buthed. Mrs. Banta was married in 1801, and her first child, born nearly eighty-one years ago, died in 1861 at the age of fifty-eight. Mrs. Banta has twenty-four granchildren, twenty-five great grand-children, and four great great grand-children. In her possession is the family Bible containing the dates of the births of her nine children. It is an old, forn, much worn volume, with one cover missing, and bears the imprint of 1741. The one-hundredth annivarsary of her birth was celebrated by a numerously attended reunion of her descendants, five generations being represented. She last attended church in October. At her one-hundredth birthday she seemed not more than seventy-five. She was able to read with the sid of glasses, and of all her faculties her memory only was slightly impaired. She was to her meals. She often spoke of the days when lots in Broadway tetched only 25, and in the Bowery £3. She was never in a theatre in her life. This was not due to religious prejudice, but to never having had any curjosity to see what one was like. Her father was an Englishman named James Wikes, who came to this city when a young man, and carried on the business of a chocolate manufacturer at what was then Broad and Stone sta. Her mother was Betsey Parks, a Quakeress, who was descended from a Butch family, Webier, who came here previous to 1668. Mrs. Banta has failed in heazh rapidly in the past two years.

THE PAULLIN MURDER RECALLED.

Charles Becker, a detective in the employ of the Eric Railway, who had to do with the Phube Paullin marder case, says that he traced the unknown man who wore a long light overcoat, and who was seen on the road the night of the murder, and found that he was a billiard-table repairer and lived in Orange County, N. Y. Becker found the place to be a liquor-store kept by the man's mother-in-law, who confessed that two days after the murder her son-in-law returned home with his garments stained with blood. She accused him of the murder, when he drew his revolver and fired a shot to frighten her and then left the house. Following up certain clews, Becker visited Deckerlown, N. J., and traced the man to a town in Pennsylvania, where it was found that he had sold a revolver and pen-knite. It is remembered in connection with this story that during the investigation into the Paullin murder Prosecutor Keen made a hurrieg Jenney to Montrose, Penn., and remained in that neighborhood several days, looking up a clew he had received.

TEMPERANCE WORK IN PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Two large Gospel temperance meetings were held on Sunday evening in the Trinity Reformed and Methodist Episcopal churches at Plainfield, N. J.
Fully 3.000 people turned out. The meetings were under the auspices of the Reform Club, President French acting as the club's representative at the Trinity Church, and First Vice-President Brokaw at the Methodist Church James McGee, a prominent layman and president of the Devoe Oil Company of New-York, conducted the exercises. Channeey Shaffer, of New-York, addressed the meeting on the scientific aspects of the question. He was followed by ex-Councilman Alexander Gilbert and Vice-President Brokaw. Judge Wadsworth said he had lived in Plainfield seven years, and that this was the first time he had ever been in a church. He was followed by Noah W. Pike, of the club, the Rev. Dr. Yorkes, of the Baptist Church, Mayor Maxson, and the Rev. Mr. Honeyman. On the call for signers to the pledge forty-seven came forward and added their names to the aiready large list. The meeting at Trinity Church was of squal interest, and was addressed by a number of prominent members of the club, two hefore the temperance revival was a wholesale wine merchant designed the pledge and left the business; John H. French, president of the club, Frank Dodge, John H. Sayre and C. E. Tyler. Other speakers of the evening were the Rev. Dr. Ketchum, of the First Presbyterian Church, and the Rev. Mr. Richards, of Bath, Me. A number of new names were added to the pledge roll. Preparations for the complete fitting up of the building recently purchased for the Reform Club are being pushed to completion. There will be an eating-room and reading parlor on the first floor, and the auditorium will be fitted up as an assembly room. New recruits are being constantly added to the club roll.

A daring but unsuccessful attempt to escape from the Sing Sing Prison occurred on Sunday evening. The convicts engaging in it were John Carmody, alias Joseph Crawford, and Frank Harrison, alias Rowley, alias Riley. About the time of the change of guards in the corridors of the main building they endeavored to gain access to the roof, in order to let themselves down by a rope to the ground. Riley occupied a cell on gallery 19, and Carmody one on gallery 17. They effected their escape from the cells by boring through the iron doors with steel drills to the locks on the outside and shoving back the boits. Then they wen' to the north end of the top gallery, where they ripped off a board in the ceiling: they climbed up in the attic, and with a saw cut through a beam 10 by 4 inches in size, in order to gain the roof.

They were by this time missed from their cells by Keeper George Bronson, although skilfully prepared dummires had been substituted in their places, and on, exarch being made on the top galleries their kidding place was soon discovered. They were or TRYING TO ESCAPE FROM SING SING.

Frank Riley was one of the two convicts who escaped through the mess-room window last November, by sawing through the bars; he was recaptured on January 8, in Sixth-ave., New-York, and returned to the prison. His companion, Charles Wilson, was captured in New-Orleans a few weeks ago, and brought back by Detective Jackson of the prison. The theory entertained by the officers is that the implements found upon the convicts were made in the prison clandestinely, and that the clothes must have been smuggled in by visiting friends.

NEWARK.

The stock of Richardson & Hall, coach lamp manufacturers, who made an assignment on Thurs-day, was levied on yesterday for the benefit of D. H. Elchardson, sr., father of one of the members, and a principal creditor.

A suit against the Newark Plank Road Company was begun yesterday by George Smith, an expressman, to recover $100 for collecting illegal tolls. This is a fest suit and part of the agitation in Newark to compel the company to keep the road in repair and lower the toll.

The new hall of the Women's Christian Temperance Union was opened yesterday. The building has been purchased for $25,000. It is Waldmann's Theatre remodelled.

Orange,—The Salvation Army exercises in Lindsley's Hall have been discontinued. On Saturday sight the audience was too furbulent to submit to solice control, and on Sunday night the contingent of the Army, which had promised to return, failed o keep its appointment.

Monitstows.—The following have been elected trustees of Evergreen Cemetery for the ensuing term: T. B. Flagler, B. C. Guerin, John Thatcher and F. A. Freeman.

and F. A. Freeman.

Mansson.—The monthly meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association was held in Association Hall last evening and was addressed by the General Secretary, C. H. Yatman, of Newark: subject, "Young Men of Grit".... The annual election for school trustee will be held this evening. The sum of $700 is asked by the trustees to defray the expenses for the current year, exclusive of salaries.

HOBOKEN.—There were no developments yesterday in the case of John McMahon, the defaulting collector.....The police were informed yesterday of the case of Emma Meyer, who was taken from Castle Garden on Friday by William Shanbe, a fireman on the steamer Donau, who said he had a home at No. 72 Fourth-st., Hoboken. The girl's brother went there, but Shanbe was not known. No trace of the girl has been discovered, and Shaube has not returned to the steamer.

STATEN ISLAND.

RICHMOND.—At a meeting of the superintendents of the poor of Richmond County yesterday, it was decided not to recognize a commitment for vagrancy on the street; that the jail should be used for that purpose and not the almshouse.

There are indications of a good run....The Nyack Chorat Society are now rehearsing "Elijah," and will produce it in May.

The spring campaign closed by the election to-day has been the most exciting yet known on Orangetown local issues. The liquor dealers have used money unsparingly to counteract the influence of press, pulpit and the Law and Order Association. The Republicans have been fighting with the temperance men. Last night a final mass meeting unde the auspices of the Law and Order Association was field in Voorhis Hall. It was an enthusiastic gathering of citizens, mostly Republicans. A prayer meeting for the success of the law and order ticket was held in the afternoon in the Reformed Church, many ladies assisting in the work.
